No. TM(GM)/IT/11-1/IV/872 27th March 1965.—In continuation of this Office notification No TM(GM)/IT 11-1/866, dated 31st March 1964, and notification No. TM(GM) IT/11-1/868, dated 19th May 1964 published at pages 925 to 928 of "Calcutta Gazette", dated 9th April 1964, and page 1510 of "Calcutta Gazette", dated 18th June 1964, a copy of the Government of India, Ministry of Finance (Department of Revenue), F. No. 12/13/65-IT(B), dated 10th March 1965, regarding deduction of income-tax from salaries during 1965-66, is circulated herewith for information and guidance of all Drawing and Disbursing Officers under audit/payment of this office and all Treasury and Sub-Treasury Officers in West Bengal.

The schedule of rates attached to the Ministry's letter F. No. 12/13/65-IT(B), dated 10th March 1965, has also been reproduced below for reference.

[Dy. GM/579, dated 3/65—Bundle GM/IT 11-1/Vol. IV]

Copy of letter F. No. 12/13/65-IT(B), dated 10th March 1965, from Shri Wasiq Ali Khan, Deputy Secretary to the Government of India, Ministry of Finance (Department of Revenue), New Delhi, addressed to all State Governments.

SUBJECT: Income-tax—Deduction from salaries during 1965-66.

I am directed to invite a reference to this Ministry's letter No. 12/19/64-I.T., dated 7th May 1964, on the subject of deduction of Income-tax from salaries paid during the year 1964-65. The Finance Bill introduced in the Parliament on 27th February 1965 provides inter alia the rates at which income-tax is proposed to be levied for the assessment year 1965-66. These rates will be applicable to deduction of tax from salaries paid or payable on or after 1st April 1965. An extract from paragraph A of Part I of the First Schedule to the Finance Bill, 1965, in so far as it relates to earn income is enclosed herewith. It is requested that pending the passing of the Finance Bill, 1965, deduction of tax at source from salaries may be made during the year 1965-66 according to the rates in the said Schedule.

2. The principal changes made in the Finance Bill, 1965, so far as they relate to income from salaries are as under:

(i) Super-tax which is an additional duty of income-tax is proposed to be integrated with income-tax.

(ii) For the assessment year 1965-66 there will be a single rate schedule of income-tax under which tax will be calculated on the entire income without any exemption of an initial slab of income. However, in the case of resident individuals, the tax calculated on the total income will be reduced by a specified amount of tax on account of personal allowances, as set forth in clause (ii) of the proviso to paragraph A of Part I.

(iii) The existing method of calculating rebate of tax on sums paid as Life Insurance Premia, contributions to Provident Funds and deposits in a ten-year account or fifteen-year account under the Post Office Savings Bank (Cumulative Time Deposit Rules), 1959, will be replaced by an outright deduction of 50 per cent. of the qualifying amount of such payments from the total income.

The qualifying amount of the payment in respect of all the three items taken together will be subject to a maximum of 25 per cent. of the total income of the assessee as computed before making the above deduction and the deduction on account of annuity deposits, or Rs. 12,500 whichever is less.

3. No income-tax will be deductible unless the total income exceeds Rs. 3,000 per annum. As a result of this, and the reduction in tax under clause (ii) of the proviso on account of personal allowances, no tax will be deductible at source where the total salary income after deduction of 50 per cent. of the qualifying sums in respect of contributions to Provident Fund, Life Insurance Premia, etc., does not exceed the following limits:—

	Rs.
Unmarried individual ..	3,000
Married individual with no child ...	3,500
Married individual with one dependent child ..	3,900
Married individual with more than one dependent child .	4,300

4. As in the earlier year, the Finance Bill, 1965, also provides for a payment of annuity deposit by individuals who are citizens of India and whose total income exceeds Rs. 15,000. The rates of annuity deposits are prescribed in the Second Schedules, to the Finance Bill, 1965 (extracts enclosed). The annuity deposits will be paid by the employees themselves. As the amount of annuity deposit made by an assessee is to be allowed as a deduction in computing his total income, the Disbursing Officer will calculate the amount of the annuity deposit payable on the salary income and deduct that amount from the income of the employees when calculating the income-tax to be deducted at source. This procedure has to be followed irrespective of whether the employee has actually made the annuity deposit or not.

For the removal of doubts, it is hereby clarified that the income on which annuity deposit will be calculated will be the gross income after deducting therefrom 50 per cent. of the qualifying amount in respect of contributions to Provident Fund, Life Insurance Premia, etc.

Individuals who are not citizens of India are not liable to make annuity deposits. Therefore, income-tax deductible from their salary income will be calculated on their salary income after deducting 50 per cent. of the qualifying amount in respect of contributions to Provident Fund, Life Insurance Premia, etc., but without deducting any annuity deposit therefrom.

5. In deducting the tax from salaries, the following points have to be kept in view:

(i) Where the total income (after deducting of 50 per cent. of the qualifying amount in respect of contributions to Provident Fund, Life Insurance Premia, etc.) does not exceed Rs. 3,142 and the employee is unmarried, the income-tax payable shall not exceed 40 per cent. of the amount by which the total income exceeds Rs. 3,000.

(ii) No rebate on tax should be allowed by the person responsible for paying the salary in respect of any donations for charitable purposes which qualify for tax rebate under section 88 of the Income-tax Act, 1961. However, the rebate in respect of contributions made to the National Defence Fund and Jawaharlal Nehru Memorial Fund may be allowed at source where deductions are made from the pay bills. While allowing rebate at source, care should be taken to see that contributions for the year should not be less than the minimum limit of Rs. 250 and that the amount of such rebate does not exceed half the aggregate of the donations in respect of which rebate is allowed. Disbursing Officers should show the total contributions in the remarks column of the return under section 206 of the Income-tax Act, 1961.

(iii) The deduction admissible for the maintenance of a conveyance will be allowed by the Income-tax Officer at the time of assessment. Relief in this regard should not be adjusted at the time of deduction of tax at source.

(iv) The relief admissible to married persons and to persons who have one or more children dependent on them should be allowed for the full year if these conditions are fulfilled on the last date of that year.

(v) A divorce should be treated as a married person if he/she has a child dependent on him/her. Otherwise he/she should be treated as unmarried.

(vi) A widow/widower is to be treated as a married person.

6. For the facility of Disbursing Officers, a typical example of tax calculation is given in the enclosure to this letter.

7. If any changes are made when the Finance Bill, 1965, is passed into law, the same will be communicated to you in due course.
